Quick, cost-effective and supported with unique assets, Avanade ERP services and solutions give you the flexibility to integrate and automate critical business processes.

Get the flexibility and agility to compete

Business remains stagnant when organizations are unable to recognize and act on new opportunities quickly and effectively. One major way to improve market responsiveness—and drive down costs—comes from improving operational efficiency across business units.

Avanade ERP services are built on Microsoft Dynamics® AX and supported with Avanade assets. Bundled together, we call this complete offering the Avanade AX Productivity Platform™. Through this unique approach, we are able to deliver both platforms and the parts you need to make it run efficiently. As a current member of the exclusive Microsoft President's Club and Inner Circle Partner for Microsoft Dynamics, Avanade is the ideal partner to deliver results on this platform. In addition, our solution offerings target the specific implementation and support needs of clients in diverse industries, including financial services, manufacturing, professional services, retail, wholesale distribution and the public sector.

Each of our industry solution offerings also has the Avanade ERP Fast Implementation Track™ (FIT) option. A perfect solution for smaller organizations, Avanade FIT is a complete, fully configured Microsoft Dynamics AX environment that comes with implementation methodology, documentation and templates we can use to install and configure your solution quickly, allowing for faster speed to benefit.

View your organization holistically

Every organization needs to see the whole picture to make wise business decisions—and that means an effective ERP system needs to be fully integrated into its existing heterogeneous IT environment. Avanade ERP services and solutions can establish the transactional backbone for your organization.

You'll be able to coordinate and improve business management across multiple functional areas very quickly, whether it's manufacturing, CRM, project accounting, human resource management, supply chain management, distribution, financial management, service management or business analytics. And just as importantly, full integration and a comprehensive view not only help you view and manage your current state, they can also help you set the right course for future success.

Get better results faster

Avanade is the largest Microsoft Dynamics AX global partner, with dedicated resources in over 25 countries. To date, we have delivered hundreds of customer projects across a wide range of industries. We use that understanding and experience to help implement a Dynamics AX solution successfully within your organization, optimize your business processes and create a solution that will work both today and in the future.

The Avanade AX Productivity Platform can save your organization significant amounts of time and money. For instance, our architecture configuration, infrastructure architecture and deployment templates streamline planning and deployment, while connectors and web services reduce the amount of time it takes to configure and interconnect with other systems. We can even help address the specific needs of satellite offices that require a local ERP instance that communicates with a central one. And with our industry and FIT solution offerings, you can get the functionality that's right for your business sooner.
