Microsoft Teams Enablement Workshop

What is the Microsoft Teams Enablement Workshop?

As the largest users of Microsoft Teams in the world, we are best placed to help you adopt it as a broad and continually expanding canvas. Microsoft Teams can provide endless opportunities as a critical platform for your workplace transformation. However, for many of our clients there are some key questions to be answered:

- What can Teams offer our organization?
- How can we apply Teams to drive a new employee experience?
- How can Teams facilitate our business transformation and change the way in which our people work?
- What does the business case for Teams look like and where do the value areas sit?
- How can we drive adoption of the platform with the right behaviors from our people?
- Where do we start and what needs to be considered?

Avanade's Teams enablement workshop will help you to understand the art of the possible, how other organizations are leveraging the platform and ecosystem, where to start and how to build a business case.

Duration:
0.5 days

Participants:
Avanade workplace experience experts and your technical and business teams

Activities

Outline the Teams platform capabilities and share insights on how other organizations have leveraged the platform

Whiteboard possible scenarios based on your workforce personas and current business issues

Explore common and high value use cases

What do you get?

A detailed presentation specific to your organization that outlines:

- An in depth overview of the 'art of the possible' with Teams
- Insights from how other organizations have deployed Teams and how they have leveraged the platform to improve business performance e.g. employee and customer experiences
- Examples of some specific use cases for your organization
- A high level value use case and roadmap including where you could start your journey
- Agreed next steps
